

List of Kid Stuff Records, and Other Products.

By "Teary Eyes" Anderson

The first record {pun intended}, of a company named "Kid Stuff Records", is from 1975, and it was founded by television host and singer Bob McAllister, along with Artie Kaplan, Dick Mullen. 3 albums were released on this label, all of which were recordings of Bob McAllister, work. One of which was a re-release of his 1971 album. The "Kid Stuff Records", albums were distributed by A.A./Wonderland. According to "Record World" magazine, March 5, 1977, the record company, and publisher signed a "exclusive, long-term agreement" which was "signed in November 1976". After releasing these three albums, the company seemed to either be bought out, or went out of business.

KS1001, Bob McAllister: Oh Gee! It's Great to be A Kid {1975}

KS1002, Bob McAllister: Kids Are People Too! {1971 version, published by Roulette SR-42064, Re-released 1975 as KS1002}

KS1003, A Family Christmas: Wonderama's Bob McAllister

The second track, that can be found of the company, is that of the Disneyland Records, Sales managers, Irv Schwartz, and Jerry Weiner leaving Disney, and working with I.J.E. Inc. to produce children's audio stories. This version of "Kids Stuff Records", had a new logo, and distributor, but it is unclear if the name of the company was bought, or if one company closed, and another totally new company was created. "Kids Stuff Records" products, at first were labeled with "Distributed by I.J.E. Inc.", while later releases have them as a "Division of IJE Inc."

The majority of these early albums were audio stories only, with no books. These featured folk tales, children stories, and nursery rhymes. These stories were narrated, and acted by "The Kids Stuff Repertory Company", they also began releasing cover song albums, including disco versions of popular melodies of the time. They did cover versions of songs by such artists as Elvis, John Denver, The Beatles, and Elton John. Many of these were credited on the albums as being preformed by a band named "The Wild Honey Singers". From there they branched out into doing spin off products from various popular franchises, mostly cartoon series. During this time they began to produce "Limited Edition Collector Series", of tie-in Picture Discs. For much of their history they also released educational records and books teaching the ABC's, numbers, and saying "No" when encountering abusive situations.

In the mid 1980's the company branched off into "Kid Stuff Toys", while releasing things like a re-branded Sony Walkman, now titled the "Talkman", creating VHS versions of their audio books/read along books. "Kid Vid", became another side product based on their recorded books. Sadly the company seemed to never get past this phase in its history. It continued to release, and re-release its various tie-in products, but as the shows that the books were based on, ended, or began loose viewers, their products were not selling as well. Kid Stuff then began to try building up various other brands, such as; "Pocket Pals" a miniature version of the books which could fit into a pocket along with the cassette tapes, "Just Imagine: Play Kit" a audio tape with themed crayon and sketch pad. "Just Imagine" had a cassette tape that featured descriptive narration, and asked the listener to use the crayon, and sketch pad to draw the characters or scenes. Kid Stuff also released "Gift Pack", bundles of their audio book sets. Each 'Pack' featured a collection of 3 of their book/tape sets for that specific tie-in brand. Record totes, boxes to hold the record/book sets were released by Kid Stuff Records, they featured various tie-in franchises.

At about this time I.J.E. Inc., began selling off various parts of its company. Besides audio books, and toys, they also created video games under the name "GameTek". Some of IJE Inc. properties were bought by LJN Toys, whom was later bought by Acclaim Entertainment. Because of the company being split up, and various products being owned by different companies, it is difficult to know exactly when "Kid Stuff Records" finally closed, and whom owned the rights to their audio libraries.

Kid Stuff Records, unknown label numbers.
